

The man who died at the Star lodging house yesterday morning is still at the Gourley undertaking establishment. Effort has been made to find something by which his identity might be made known, but nothing whatever has been found by which identification could be made. The man is a total stranger, as far as any one in this city is able to recognize him, and he will be buried without name in the pauper's field, unless something should turn up tomorrow regarding the man.

unknown englishman 2

Clipped By:

skarenm

Mon, Apr 3, 2023